

The Central Record.

ELEVENTH YEAR.

Entered at the Post Office in Lancaster, Ky., as Second Class Matter.

NUMBER 9

LOUIS LANDRAM, Publisher.

LANCASTER, KY., THURSDAY AFTERNOON, MAY 31, 1900.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

THE LOGAN
DRY GOODS
CO

SETS

THE

PAGE

OTHERS

FOLLOW

OUR

LEAD!

LANCASTER AND VICINITY.

Visit Joe Nicklass' shaving parlor.

Red Ash, Bluegem and Brilliant coal for cash cheap. J. C. Moss 242-47

Recent rains have put vegetation to growing with a vim. It has also greatly encouraged the weeds.

The eclipse of the sun was plainly visible here, and many stood with outstretched necks and smoked glass viewing the sights.

Take in the cheap excursion to Louisville tomorrow. Only $2.25 for the round trip. This is the first cheap excursion run to Louisville in many years.

The pastor, L. Robinson, will preach at the Methodist church at 11 o'clock, 7. m., and at Bryantsville at night, Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. and Epworth League at 7 p. m.

Speaking at Scotts Fork. H. S. Bonsib, of Vincennes, Ind., will give a free lecture at Scotts Fork church on Friday night, June 1st. Subject, Gospel Prohibition. Every body come. He is an interesting speaker.

Prohibition Convention. The prohibitionists of the 8th congressional district will hold a mass meeting at Nicholasville June 18th at 2 p. m. for the purpose of putting out a candidate for Congress and selecting delegates to the Prohibition National Convention at Chicago June 27th.

Beginning on the first day of June, and until further notice, I will sell you buggies, phonos and road wagons at prices that will make you wonder how it can be done. Nothing like it was ever seen in Lancaster. Come early if you want the best choice.—Conn's Carriage Shop.

Temperance Lectures. H. S. Bonsib, familiarly called the "Flying Dutchman," of Vincennes, Indiana, has been in the county this week making speeches upholding the cause of temperance, and striving to aid its cause. He is a gifted speaker, and has done much toward enlightening the people.

Helping The Advocate. Harry Giovannoli telephoned The Record office that he was over-rim with job work, behind with the paper, and suffering intensely from need of a printer. Our Mr. R. E. Henry was dispatched to the scene and will remain during the week. Mr. Henry is the third extra hand now at work on the Advocate, running its corps of printers up to about eight. Harry must be raking in all kinds of dough.

Resolution. That the cordial thanks of this convention be hereby tendered to the citizens of Lancaster, and the various committees for their untiring efforts in behalf of our comfort and pleasure, and for the hearty welcome we have received. A copy to be published, also spread upon the minutes.

Committee.—Mary Lyle Reynolds, Chairman; Mary A. Fortner, Annie J. Payne, Alice Breitenstein, Callie Hughes.

Attention Farmers. We take pleasure in gratifying the farmers of Garrard county, that as usual we will be in the market for wheat, and will buy at all stations on the Rowland Branch L. & N. railroad, and will see that our friends and customers get top prices for their wheat. So make no promises to anyone, but be independent and remember your friends before selling, and see us. We have storage room for 20,000 bushels of wheat, and rate of storage will be reasonable. We also will keep on hand new sacks to sell farmers at cost, should they want to hold their wheat.

Your Friends,
H. A. B. MARKSBURY & SON.

An Enjoyable Occasion.

The occasion of Gen. John B. Gordon's lecture in this city was made a most pleasing event. The G. A. R. being in session, most all of the delegates attended the lecture, making, together with the numerous Confederate veterans present, an audience composed largely of soldiers. General Gordon was introduced by Capt. Herridon, and for two hours held the undivided attention of his hearers. Gen. Gordon is certainly a great man, and is doing noble work toward stamping out the feeling between the north and south. The feeling is only kept alive today by a few bitter partisans who dared not shoulder a gun and fight for the side they sympathized with. You never hear a southern or northern soldier relishing the troubles of thirty-five years ago. Gen. Gordon told many incidents relating to the funny side of war, but when he told of the hardships endured by the soldiers, it brought tears to every eye in the house. All honor to Gen. Gordon, and may he be spared many more years of health, happiness and usefulness.

Visit Joe Nicklass' shaving parlor.

Up stairs rooms, on Public Square for rent. Apply to Joe Nicklass.

If you try our Soda once you will come again. Frisbie's Drug Store. 3t

If you are in need of furniture go to J. A. Beazley's where you can get the best goods for the least money.

When you need anything in the dry goods line, you know you will get the latest styles and lowest prices at Joseph's.

R. A. Stone has a big stock of bedroom sets, sofas, lounges, couches, bedsteads, chairs, rockers, etc. and they all need selling.

We have had a remarkably prosperous season and appreciate our customers' patronage. We always deal fairly and give you the very best goods to be had. Joseph.

Notice to Taxpayers. Come in and pay your taxes at once, as we are preparing to advertise delinquents, and same will be done in a few days. J. B. Sanders. S. G. C.

Democratic Mass Convention. Chairman Farris has issued a call for a democratic mass meeting to be held in the court house Saturday, June 3, to select delegates to the Louisville convention. All democrats urged to be present.

Danville Fair Grounds Sold. The new Danville Fair Association has bought the fair grounds in that city, price $7,000, $2,000 to be paid at once and balance in easy payments. The new association is composed of young men who are hustlers, and will make the exhibitions among the best in the state.

Who Can Beat Him? Mr. George W. White, the oldest type in this city, better known as "Old Print," was born in Richmond, Ky., May 27, 1837, and served a printer's trade of three years on the Richmond Whig Chronicle, commencing his trade in August, 1849, with Thomas L. Goddin, was sixty-three years old last Sunday and says he can set from three to four galleys of type every ten hours, in brevity. Who can beat him?—Richmond Pantagraph.

The Record can beat you all hollow. Capt. Franklin J. White, the old Mexican veteran, of this office (who is a half-brother of "Old Print") comes to this office every day and sets three galleys of clean brevity by three o'clock in the afternoon. He was seventy-nine years old on January 23, last. He began work in a printing office in Richmond, (the Farmers Chronicle) in 1820, printed by Joseph Turner. Capt. White walks to and from his home, a distance of three-quarters of a mile each way. He can jump in the air, crack his heels together three times, and handle a quid of long-green tobacco with as much grace as one of half his years. The Pantagraph will have to cut and come again.

Lancaster Wins Honors.

The Lancaster Graded School covered herself with honors at the Blue Grass Tournament held in Winchester last week, and won an enviable reputation. Hundreds of visitors were present from all over the state, and enthusiasm was at a white heat. The schools represented were those of Somerset, Mt. Sterling, Cynthia, Flenningsburg, Richmond, Midway, Lancaster, Harrodsburg and Winchester. We give below a list of the awards received by Lancaster:

Plane geometry: Walter Hudson, Lancaster, second.

Latin, free translation: Sim Anderson, Lancaster, second.

English composition: Willie Belle Burnside, Lancaster, first.

Best Chorus: Lancaster.

Vocal quartet: Lancaster.

Vocal duet, female: Cora Ward and Ethel West, Lancaster.

Foot race, fifty yards: Louis Herridon, Lancaster.

One-eighth mile, Marshall Denny, Lancaster.

One-half mile, Les Anderson, Lancaster.

Running high jump, Marshall Denny, Lancaster; running broad jump, Marshall Denny, Lancaster; standing broad jump, Marshall Denny, Lancaster.

Trigonometry: Fred Evans, Mary Thompson and Annie Yantis, tied.

Given to Evans through a clerical mistake.

The scholarship offered by Centre College for best English scholar was awarded Willie Belle Burnside, of Lancaster.

In the base ball game, Lancaster played a tie game with Harrodsburg up to the tenth inning, when Harrodsburg got in a winning decision, which decision caused much complaint, and was said to have been allowed a runner who ran over the second baseman.

Winchester Democrat:—In the Contest in Trigonometry, two of the Lancaster pupils, Mary Thompson and Annie Yantis, made two clerical errors each, but as Fred Evans made only one he was declared the winner.

Seed corn on the ear. Banks Hudson. 4-19.

Try General Gordon's Cigar. 10c. Frisbie's Drug Store.

Globe and clock valves, reducing coupling, etc., at Conn's shop.

You don't know what good Soda Water is until you have tried Frisbie's. 3t

Wanted, 10,000 pounds of butter. Highest market price paid. H. B. Northcott.

The hot sun now comes upon your head. Protect it with a handsome parasol from Joseph's.

□ We now have a few lines to close out at great bargains. Come in and see us as you will find great bargains in these lines. J. Joseph.

Do you take your Soda where you happen to be, or keep your thirst for the place you are sure of. Frisbie's is the place to be sure of. 3t

Paris green, insect powder, moth preventive, carbolic acid, bug exterminator—articles necessary during the hot weather. STONKES DRUG STORE.

Smith & Curry, Agents for Danville Steam Laundry. Work shipped and received daily. Shirt waists a specialty. Office at R. H. Batson's dry-goods store. 1t.

Come in girls. A glass of our Soda will lighten your noses. Frisbie's Drug Store. 3t Error in Sugar.

In the Blue Grass Grocery advertisement last week, the types said they would sell "16" pounds granulated sugar for a dollar. It should have been "15" pounds. One figure sometimes makes a big difference.

Ask your neighbors to subscribe for the CENTRAL RECORD so they will know that Conn can save them enough on one buggy to pay several years' subscription. Some people complain that we don't advertise. After they have bought a buggy and see our stock and prices, on asking them if they take The Record they say "No," of course they do not know that we advertise.

H. S. Bonsib's Appointments.

H. S. Bonsib, of Vincennes, Ind., will speak as elsewhere announced, at Scotts Fork on Friday night June 1st and at New Hope church near Paint Lick station, on Sunday June 3rd at 11 o'clock; at Vahutta same day at 2:30 p. m.; at Cartersville same day at 7:30 p. m. It will pay to hear him. Everybody invited.

To the Public.

I have secured the services of Mr. H. Smith, a practical carriage painter and trimmer, who has charge of my painting and trimming department for carriage shop. All work entrusted to us will have our special attention. We are prepared to do all kind of carriage work. New stock of buggies, etc., on hand at astonishingly low prices. Conn's Carriage Shop.

A Distressing Accident.

Tuesday morning, near Stanford, a train ran into the phaeton of Mrs. Annie Engleman and Miss Sue Woods at Woods' crossing, throwing them down a rock embankment. Miss Woods fell to the right and her head was badly cut. The doctors found no fracture, but the concussion was great and the injuries may prove fatal. Mrs. Engleman was only slightly injured. Miss Wood was well known in Lancaster. She was a popular visitor at the hop in this city Friday night.

Closing of Graded School.

The Lancaster Graded School closed its fifth session Wednesday, May 27. The enrollment during the year was about three hundred and forty, with an average attendance of about two hundred and seventy. This is by far the largest enrollment and attendance since the organization of the school, and the outlook for the future is exceedingly encouraging. One new grade, the twelfth, has been added to the school, thus making the course of study as complete as any other Graded School in the state.

During the past two years there has not been a single suspension or expulsion from school and but few cases of corporal punishment. Pupils are taught that it is more manly and laudable to be loving, obedient children as a source of happiness than to be governed by force or threat. The following teachers compose the faculty for the ensuing year:

J. H. Patterson, Principal, 11th and 12th grades.

Miss Knapp West, teacher 7th and 8th grades.

Miss Janyie Shumate teacher 5th and 6th grades.

Miss Annie Royston teacher 3rd and 4th grades.

Miss Margaret Murphy teacher 1st and 2nd grades.

Miss Claude Peters teacher Beginners.

Mrs. Belle Burnside, teacher Music.

Seed corn on the ear. Banks Hudson. 4-19.

All the latest styles in dress goods at J. Joseph's.

See J. A. Beazley's line of wall paper before buying.

Our Drugs are as good as our Soda. FRISBIE'S DRUG STORE.

Thermometer 100 deg. Soda. 3t Frisbie's Drug Store.

Don't be deceived, but at the Old Reliable House of T. Carrey you can get the Best Goods at the lowest prices—all the time.

Good goods at lowest prices, is our motto. The people have found this out, and patronize us accordingly. R. A. Stone.

Tomato Plants.

Twelve different varieties now ready for sale at 15 cts dozen, 2 dozen for 25 cts. Call on Joe and Louis Burnside, Danville street. 1t

R. A. Stone will sell you a 2 gallon bucket for 15c and 14 gallon bucket for 12c, 2 lb. package rolled oats 5c, pears at 10c per can, best peas on earth at 10c, and pay cash for all kinds of produce.

After ten days of intense suffering from membranous croup, Roy E. the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Conn, living near Hyattsville, passed peacefully away Monday morning. The remains were taken to the old Paint Lick Cemetery and interred Tuesday.

Court Day.

Only a small crowd attended court Monday. The demand for stock was fairly good and trading about up to the average. Siler & Co., of the stock yards report 385 cattle, and 500 sheep on the market. Stock hogs brought $2.75 to $4, butcher cows 31 to 24, good yearling steers $28, steers 5c, heifers 4c, ewes and weathers $2 to $3 per head.

Cheap Rates Tomorrow.

The L. & N. will sell round trip tickets to Louisville at $2.25 tomorrow, Friday, morning. Special train leaves Lancaster at 7:08, Hyattsville at 6:55, Lowell 6:39, Paint Lick 6:37, Gilberts Creek 7:22. The $2.25 rate is the same from all these points. Returning train leaves Louisville that night about 11 o'clock. Train reaches the Falls City at 10:55. There are reduced rates to Louisville each day, but the $2.25 tickets will only be sold tomorrow (Friday).

Professional.

The undersigned take pleasure in recommending Mr. E. W. Morrow as a thorough and an experienced optician. We know of his ability to test and fit the eye with glasses, his work being entirely satisfactory. We advise those needing glasses to patronize him.

H. C. Herring, M. D., J. E. Kinnaird, M. D., I. S. Wesley, M. D., W. N. Bush, M. D., H. M. Grant, M. D., E. Evans, M. D., J. M. Acton, M. D.

Go to J. A. Beazley for a new and beautiful line of wall paper.

Some strictly new cultivated hemp seed for sale. Banks Hudson. 4-19.

We employ no Graphophone to draw custom. We don't have one.

R. A. Stone.

We treat all alike—fair dealing, honest goods and small profits. No humbuggery about us. J. Joseph.

Work on Miner & Co's new mills is progressing nicely. They think they will be ready for business by the middle of August.

Town Lots in Bryantsville for Sale.

Will sell privately two lots, with dwellings. Apply to J. X. Dunn or myself at Bryantsville for particulars. JAS. HILLS.

Ladies, before making your purchases call at our store and see what elegant stocks we have to select from. You are certain to be pleased. J. Joseph.

J. Joseph has been in business in Lancaster long enough to establish a reputation for fair dealing and honest values. Call at his store and you are certain of a fair exchange for your money.

Wheat Wanted.

As agent for a reliable firm, I will pay the highest market price for wheat. I will engage a few choice crops now (if seen in time) to be delivered at threshing time.

TOM ADAMS, Bryantsville, Ky.

Rev. J. C. Mussee Resigns.

It is with the deepest regret that The Record announces the resignation of Rev. J. C. Mussee as pastor of the local Baptist church. It is to take effect July 1st, and he leaves to accept a large church in Ohio. No minister has done more hard, earnest work in Lancaster than was Mr. Mussee, and his efforts to build up the church have been exceedingly successful.

Full Line of . . .

Furniture and Carpets.

LOCAL TIME TABLES.

South-bound Mixed, passes Lancaster 11:10 A. M.

North-bound Mixed, " " 3:20 P. M.

South-bound Passenger, " " 7:52 A. M.

North-bound " " 12:28 A. M.

Knights of Pythias.

Garrard Lodge No. 29, Knights of Pythias, meets every Friday night in Masonic hall. All visiting Knights are fraternally invited.

J. E. ROBINSON, C. C.

G. B. SWINEBROAD, K. R. & S.

MEN'S SUITS THAT COMPEL RESPECT.

Prices that Exact Admiration.

See Our Shirt Department.

If you haven't bought your Spring suit yet, we can give you some very interesting figures. We can give you satisfaction as well as economy. Our suits are stylish, elegant, distinguished looking and reasonable in price. $7.50, $10. and $12.00 will buy a first-class suit, and you will be surprised to learn how good these suits are. Look through our Tailoring Department, suits made to measure and fit guaranteed. Prices from 15. to $45.00 per suit.

Fine Shoes.

See our line of Men's $3.50 Walk-over Shoes. Our line of Ladies fine footwear made by Drew Selby, and excel anything in town.

Straw Hats.

Have we got them? Well we should say so. How many do you want? We have enough to cover every head in town and County. It's very difficult for us to try to tell you about them. There's too much to tell. Prices range from 25c to $2.00.

Up-To-Date Hosiery.

Beautiful line of Neckwear.

Logan & Robinson

SPECIAL No. 6

FOR THE WEEK
BEGINNING MONDAY, JUNE 4, 1900.

Elmore's Rio Coffee at 10cts a Pound.
Makes a fine Cup of Strong Coffee and knocks package coffee sky high.

3 lbs best Bulk Soda for 5cts.
FINEST PRESERVES at 5cts pound.
All Flavors. It's cheap at 10c a pound.

2 LAMP CHIMNEYS FOR 5cts.
EITHER SIZE—No 1 or No 2.

Remember! These bargains represent jobber's first cost, and are good for One Week Only.

YOURS TRULY,
Blue Grass Grocery,
'Phone 83. T. E. SMITH, Mgr.

CENTRAL RECORD

THURSDAY, MAY 31, 1900

EVERY WEEK BY
LOUIS LANDRAM, Publisher.
LANCASTER, KENTUCKY.

TERMS: (One Year in Advance) $10.00
(Six Months) $6.00
(Three Months) $3.00

The credentials of J. S. Blackburn have been presented as Senator from Kentucky. It is the source of much gratification to his many friends and admirers to see him returned to the Senate.

W. S. Taylor says he will not decide as to whether he will run for governor this fall until after the republican national convention. If there has to be an election, we are in favor of a new deal all round.

There is a strong feeling among the democrats of Garrard for Hon. James B. McCreary as a candidate for governor this fall. He has a strong following here, and if he should be nominated will get a big vote.

There is a divided opinion as to whether an election for governor should be held this fall. Leading lawyers differ on the subject. If none is held, the politicians and flouters will have to winter their enthusiasm, as not much bode is put out in Kentucky in presidential races.

The last days of the session of the Senate will be occupied chiefly by the Philippine measure and appropriation bills. The Clark case will come up during the week and speeches on the Boer resolution are expected. Adjournment is hoped for by June 6, but the date may be extended.

In an interview given out last week, the Hon. John W. Yerkes intimates that if it were necessary he would accept the republican nomination for governor. If both parties would select as clean, honorable men as is Mr. Yerkes, the race would be run upon high principles, and no mud-slinging indulged in. Mr. Yerkes is a polished gentleman, and no one can deny the fact.

EX-GOV. W. O. BRADLEY is at home this week taking a much needed rest, after his long and difficult work in the contest cases. Asked if he would allow his name presented to the national convention as a candidate for vice-presidential nomination, he said that his party would never name a man south of the Ohio river, and it would be a waste of time to do so. He said that if he were a southern democrat he would surely insist upon the south receiving such recognition from the democratic party, but that a republican would never be given a place on the ticket.

An Epidemic of Whooping Cough.
Last winter during an epidemic of whooping cough my children contracted the disease, having severe coughing spells. We had used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy very successfully for croup and naturally turned to it at that time and found it relieved the cough and effected a complete cure. John E. Clifford, Proprietor Norwood House, Norwood, N. Y. This remedy is for sale by R. E. McRoberts, Druggist.

Gen. Wade Hampton is too feeble to attend the Confederate reunion in Louisville. He is now confined to his home.

Alas! How Soon Forgotten.
Is an ache or a pain or trouble of any kind when one is well rid of it, and it happens to be Headache or Stomach Trouble that bothers you, take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and you will not only forget you ever had it, but will know that you are not liable to have it again. The dose is small and it is pleasant to take. McRoberts' Drug Store.

PAINT LICK.

Farmers are complaining of water getting scarce and grass short.

There has been several car loads of tanbark shipped from this place this season and some more yet to go.

The Ladies Aid Society of Kirksville, have changed the date of their supper from May 31 to Tuesday, June 5th. All invited.

Rev. C. S. Leonard filled his regular appointment here Sunday, his subject in the a. m. was "Heaven," and in the afternoon, "Hell."

The eclipse of the sun was witnessed here by quite a number of persons through smoked glass. It was very interesting so that it was the first time most of them had ever seen an eclipse.

Miss Estelle Poyntz, of Mt. Sterling, visited Miss Marie McCormack last week. Bolton Kilgore, the popular drummer, was with us this week.

Miss O'Hearn, of Maysville, is visiting her parents, Mr and Mrs Thos. O'Hearn, after an absence of two years. A considerable crowd are attending the Confederate Reunion in Louisville from this place. Among whom are, Capt. J. G. Doty, E. H. Baid, Capt. O. E. Poyntz, Jas. B. Gwyn and Peter Howe. Mrs. A. W. Crawley, of Tennessee, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Dr. Casenbury, at this place. Miss Nellie Monahan, who was the trimmer at Mrs. Ely's millinery store has returned to her home in Paris, Ky.

As James B. Butler, the polite clerk at A. B. Estridge's was returning from Wm. Wilcox's last Thursday night, he was waylaid and shot by parties unknown, since then Jerry Fowler and a negro, Henry Hockaday, have been arrested on suspicion, and Hockaday has made several confessions, all different. It is generally believed that the negro did the shooting and some hired him to do it. Foster has said nothing, except that he is innocent. The only proof against him being the negro. Hockaday is a negro employed by Mr. Wilcox at present, and has been with his family a number of years. Mr. Butler is only slightly wounded, the shot which was fired from a shotgun took effect in the horse he was riding, thus saving him, but putting the horses eyes out and otherwise in juring it. The friends of Mr. Butler sincerely regret that this happened, especially as he is to be married in the near future.

A Frightful Blunder.
Will often cause a horrible Burn, Scald, Cut or Bruise. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, will kill the pain and promptly heal it. Cures Old Sores, Fever Sores, Ulcers, Boils, Felons, Corns, all Skin Eruptions. Best Pile cure on earth. Only 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by R. E. McRoberts, Druggist.

W. S. Taylor says he will not decide whether he will be the republican candidate for Governor of Kentucky this year until after the National Republican Convention.

SOUND advice to those who have kidney and bladder troubles, is to take a safe, sure medicine like Foley's Kidney Cure. It always benefits the Kidneys. C. C. & J. E. Stormes.

Arrangements are being made to give Gen. Otis an ostentatious welcome on his arrival from the Philippines at San Francisco, Tuesday.

Don't despair because you have a weak constitution. The vitalizing principle of HERBINE will assuredly strengthen it. In every drop of HERBINE there is life. There is a stimulating, regenerating power, unequalled in the whole range of medical preparations. Price, 50 cents. C. C. & J. E. Stormes.

Temperance folks are stirred up in New York over the handicap beer-drinking contest arranged by Columbia College seniors.

"DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the finest pills I ever used."—D. J. Moore, Millbrook, Ala. They quickly cure all liver and bowel trouble. F. P. Frisbie, Pharmacy.

THE G. A. R.

A Large Crowd Attended, But Rain Interfered With Carrying Out Programme.

The gates of Lancaster were thrown open to the old veterans last week, and about three hundred delegates and two hundred comrades, or as the veterans say, "visitors," accepted the invitation to be our guests. The meeting was to be held on Thursday and Friday, but the official train, bearing the officers and most of the delegates came in Wednesday afternoon. The Richmond band arrived on the eleven o'clock train Wednesday, and met the old soldiers at the depot. They were escorted to the Garrard hotel, where previous arrangements had been made to entertain them, and also rooms engaged for headquarters. The merchants had been very liberal in the use of bunting and other decorations, the Court House and other public buildings received due attention, and upon their arrival the soldiers found the town prettily dressed to receive them. An informal meeting was held at the Court House Wednesday night, at which many prominent veterans made addresses. This meeting was what the old soldiers call a "camp fire" and they tell stories and funny incidents which occurred during the war. During the night, many other delegates and visitors arrived. "Lancaster luck," put in an appearance Wednesday night, as it always does when we try to entertain visitors, that is it rained, or more properly speaking, POURED down all night, washing away a great deal of the decorations and fading and ruining most of the rest of it. Thursday morning the Public Square and streets were one vast mud hole, while the faded and use Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for all pains of the stomach and all unnatural looseness of the bowels. It always cures. For sale by R. E. McRoberts. 1yr flags, with the red washed onto the buildings, presented a sight that would beget description. All through the day showers came to add to the discouragement, and by night the pavements were almost impassable by reason of mud tracked upon them. The G. A. R. held a business meeting Thursday and decided to attend Gen. Gordon's lecture in a body, that night.

Friday morning, the weather was more favorable, but the outlook the night before had caused many of the veterans, one of the bands, and many visitors to return to their homes. People began to crowd the streets early, and by nine o'clock the Square was one solid mass of humanity. On account of the mud, the parade was declared off, and the veterans only marched around the Public Square a few times and disbanded. Having finished their business, they had their coaches attached to the eleven o'clock train and departed for their homes.

The Lancaster people were prepared to give the old soldiers a hearty welcome, but when the rain began, it dampened the enthusiasm of the average Lancaster citizen, he remembering the fact that we have never undertaken anything of this kind, that the flood gates were not opened upon us and the town almost washed off the map. Another matter that had a depressing effect was the fact that the Louisville Commercial Club failed to attend. Arrangements were completed to have several large lodge rooms prepared and well filled with lunches and other articles that go toward making a visitor feel "at home," into which we were to entertain this club and all distinguished visitors who honored us with their presence. But we lost out in this, and no attempt was made to prepare the rooms and spread the bountiful feast.

The G. A. R. elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Major L. M. Drye, of Lebanon, was elected Commander without opposition; Senior Vice Commander, Captain William Science has found that rheumatism is caused by uric acid in the blood. This poison should be excreted by the kidneys. No rheumatism with healthy kidneys. Foley's Kidney Cure makes them well. C. C. & J. E. Stormes.

Herndon, of Lancaster; Junior Vice Commander, Moses Allen, of Louisville; Medical Director, William Bowman, of Tatesboro; Department Historian, George W. Saunders, of Mayfield; Council of Administration, B. Matthews, Louisville; C. C. Vaughan, Russellville; Charles Salee, Newport; John Dorsey, Lebanon; W. R. Williams, Hustonville; Delegates to national encampment, five in number, were elected. Major Drye has appointed two members of his staff—Captain A. Affert, of Lebanon, Quartermaster, and Captain John Barr, Mayor, of Lebanon, Adjutant General. They chose Covington as the next place of meeting.

PICKET SHOTS.
The Renetown band did good work in stirring up the crowd.

Between eight and ten thousand people were in town Friday.

Many vehicles had been prettily decorated to go in the parade. Rastus was on parade in great shape. A great many of the colored brethren who "it" were on hand.

A few of the usual drunks created a little disturbance the first day, but not enough to cause any trouble.

We had the best order ever seen on similar occasions. Marshal Pierce and his efficient deputies, are entitled to great praise for their good work.

The drum corps, of Louisville, furnished much good martial music. The drum and fife has a soul stirring air that will make anyone want to march. Nearly all the members attended

That Throbbing Headache.

Would quickly leave you if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for Sick and Nervous Headaches. They make pure blood and strong nerves and build up your health. Easy to take. Try them. Only 25 cents. Money back if not cured. Sold by R. E. McRoberts, Druggist.

Gen. Gordon's lecture, and were loud in their praises of his remarks. The stories of the war were roundly applauded and enjoyed.

The battle flag placed on Lookout Mountain was carried at the head of the procession and attracted much attention. It was the first flag planted on the famous mountain during the "Battle above the Clouds," and is highly prized. It is in the possession of parties living in Estill county.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has saved the lives of thousands of croupy children. It is also without an equal for colds and whooping cough. For sale by R. E. McRoberts. 1yr.

Nearly all the members of the Nineteenth Kentucky (Gen. Landrum's regiment) who were in town, called in a body at The Record office. We were not expecting the visit, but hustled around and prepared a few refreshments which the old vets seemed to enjoy. It was a great pleasure to us to listen to their war experience and hear their compliments upon our father. This regiment was raised mostly in Mercer and Garrard counties, but the remaining members are widely scattered now.

We, the Ladies of the G. A. R., desire to extend our thanks to the citizens committee for courtesies extended, also handsome badges presented to us. To the ladies for their kind attention, and the carriage ride. We will ever remember you with respect and kindness. We further desire to thank you for the use of the church in which we held our meetings. We are most respectfully, Mrs. Emma N. Macpherson, Mrs. Mollie F. Bateman, Mrs. Sallie B. Arlington, Committee.

Between nine and eleven o'clock Friday, it was almost impossible to get through the throng on the streets. The Mt. Vernon band came in on the train Thursday morning at two o'clock and gave a serenade. They played on the streets most all day and owing to the miserable weather, returned home that night. This band is only about six months old, but does as well as most bands of far longer experience. Their playing was highly complimented. The members are young business men of Mt. Vernon, and are a clever set of gentlemen. They made many friends while in town.

No man received more attention than did the gallant Gen. E. H. Hobson, of Greensburg. Gen. Hobson is also a Mexican veteran, and one of the most prominent and highly respected leaders in the republican party in the south. He is a politician, but one on that high plane that commands the respect of everyone, of both parties. Gen. Hobson is a gentleman, and will not stoop nor countenance any of the tricks practiced by some of these dabbling in political affairs today. Would to God there were more Gen. Hobsons in Kentucky today. If there were the state would soon be out of the disgraceful attitude in which she now stands in the eyes of the nation.

For some time a movement has been on foot to establish a National Park on the battle field at Perryville. A communication from the citizens of Perryville and vicinity on this subject was referred by the encampment to a committee, composed of Maj. Drye, Judge Carr and Capt. Herndon, who introduced a resolution, which was unanimously and enthusiastically adopted, heartily favoring the move, and directing the Commander to appoint a committee to answer the communication and memorialize congress on the subject. Capt. Herndon has written Commander Drye asking that the committee which he is to appoint, go to Perryville and look over the battle field and make a full report to Congress. Our people throughout the state ought to boom the move most heartily.

The Richmond band made many friends during its stay in Lancaster. We have never seen a more obliging set of musicians, nor a better behaved set of gentlemen in a band than are those who fill its ranks. It is an almost universal rule that when an amateur band plays an engagement, there are several members who, instead of attending to business, will stroll the streets, look pretty and do the duds act, which causes much difficulty in getting them together when needed. There are no duds, nor yaller-haired mama's darlings in the Richmond band, consequently they fulfill their contracts in a business-like way, and are always ready to play when asked.

Does It Pay to Buy Cheap.
A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then either case take the ONLY remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. For sale by C. C. & J. E. Stormes.

to do so. At public meetings in country towns it is impossible to tell when the band is to be needed, and they are liable to be called out at any time, but never a kick came from the Richmond boys, and they fell in and went to the committee having them in charge. The writer of this article has been in a band for ten years, and frequently when playing away from home would have cheerfully contributed toward hiring a wet nurse for members who were "too tired to play any more," etc. Prof. Mitchell is a leader of great ability, and a performer of merit seldom seen outside the larger cities. We wish we had more space to devote to this band, but will have to wind up by saying that they put up music good enough for anyone to listen to, and contracts made with them will surely be carried out, to the letter.

Unable to Work.
Chas. Replegle, of Atwater, O., was unable to work on account of kidney trouble. After using Foley's Kidney Cure four days he was entirely well. C. C. & J. E. Stormes.

PREACHERSVILLE.

John Riggsby bought a cow last week for $20.

Walter Warren sold some sheep to J. C. Siler for $4c.

Lute King and family, of Hubble, was here, Sunday.

A. J. Thompson bought 31 sheep from J. C. Fox for $2.50 per head.

Dave Colson, from Clay county, was here the first of the week looking for a farm to buy.

Robert Holtzclaw has been to the mountains where he bought several head of cattle.

The eclipse of the sun last Monday morning was partial, showing about 2-10ths of the sun.

Mr. T. J. Hoskins, of Pineville, was here last week on his way to Madison county, prospecting for a farm.

"After suffering from piles for fifteen years I was cured by using two boxes of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve," writes W. J. Baxter, North Brook, N. C. It heals everything. Beware of counterfeits. F. P. Frisbie, Pharm.

F. F. Cummins and wife were visiting their uncle, Wm. Pherigo, at McCreary, Sunday. Miss Katie Payne and Mrs. Mattie Comany, are visiting relatives in Garrard county this week. Mr. Harriet Holtzclaw was visiting at H. C. Cummins' Sunday. Mr. Dave Thompson who has been on the sick list for some time was able to go to Stanford, Saturday. There were several from this place attended the G. A. R. at Lancaster last week.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grand mothers' never thought of using anything else for indigestion or Biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system and that is all they took when feeling dull and had with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by C. C. & J. E. Stormes.

BRYANTSVILLE.

Rev. Robinson will fill his regular appointment here the second Sunday night in each month.

Rev. J. A. Copess, pastor of the Baptist church at Mt. Lebanon, is spending the week with friends in that vicinity.

I have a beautiful line of trimmed hats that I will sell very low. New sailors just received. Mrs. J. S. Haselden.

Cyclists should always carry a bottle of BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT in case of accident, if applied immediately, it will subdue the pain, prevent swelling and discoloration, and quickly heal the wounds. Price 25 and 50 cents. C. C. & J. E. Stormes.

Misses Edna Scott and Bell Allen, have gone to Indiana to visit relatives and spend the summer. Mrs. Crutchfield, of Lexington, was in this vicinity last week. Quite a number from here attended the G. A. R. at Lancaster, and report a delightful time. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Poor, of Lancaster, went down to Hickman, Monday, and took the boat for Louisville, to be gone a few days. Mrs. Dr. Armstrong and Miss Calvert, will attend the commencement at Wilmore, this week. Mr. Woodward Burk and Robert Hunter, from Little Hickman, are the guests of Miss Eliza Burk. Mr. Harry Alford, who has been quite ill is some better at this writing.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50cts. guaranteed, at McRoberts' Drug Store.

BUY
'MASTIC' MIXED PAINT.
We have it and guarantee every gallon.
McRoberts Drug Store.

YOU SELECT A WIFE
For a lifetime and pick out the best, one best suited so your ideas of what a wife should be. Why not use the same judgment in selecting your CLOTHING, SHOES, HATS, FURNISHINGS?
'Tis true, these things may not last a lifetime, but they will cause you no end of trouble if you make a poor selection. We will leave the selection of a wife to you, as we never interfere in family matters, but when it comes to the other things, we are in a position to help you. Don't buy till you see our new ideas. No matter what it is in our lines you will find our store the best place to get them.
IT PAYS TO TRADE AT THE GLOBE.
Your money back if you're not satisfied.
MILLER & HIRSCH,
(Successors to J. L. Frohman & Co.)
DANVILLE, KENTUCKY

A. S. WILSON, P. M. H., President. C. M. KENNEDY, P. M. H., Secretary.
The Richmond School and Infirmary OF MAGNETIC HEALING and SUGGESTIVE THERAPEUTICS.
Every Known Disease Cured Without Medicine or Surgery.
Richmond, Ky., U. S. A.

We have made many marvelous cures in Madison and Garrard Counties. Note some of the following:

Mrs. E. W. S., Madison Co., severe case Sciatic Rheumatism.
Mrs. N. B. C., Kingston, Indigestion, gas on stomach, dropsy etc. etc.
Miss J. D. E., Richmond, Indigestion, Constipation, Neuralgia etc.
Miss R. N., Richmond, Paralyzed arm and limb.
Mr. M. E. M., Richmond, Kidney trouble, impaired eyesight.
Mrs. M. E. D., Madison Co., Female trouble, constipation etc.
Mrs. W. E. H., Red House, Indigestion, constipation, neuralgia.

The above are only a few of our many cures. We can furnish you with dozens of others on application. Our living testimonials are our best ones. We have them right here in Garrard Co., and Lancaster. We have established a Branch Office in Lancaster and are glad to consult all suffering humanity free of charge.

Office over Zimmer's Restaurant, Lancaster.

Office Hours: 8 to 12 a. m.; 1 to 5 p. m.

We also treat diseases at a distance.

Satisfaction Guaranteed. Come and see us.

I will stand my HERE-FORD I ULL, ROLLING FORK
No. 98796.
at $2. Money due at time of service.
J. A. ROBINSON
One-half mile from Lancaster on Danville pike.

A BOON TO MANKIND!
DR. TABLER'S BUCKEYE PILE CURE
I will stand my HERE-FORD I ULL, ROLLING FORK
No. 98796.
at $2. Money due at time of service.
J. A. ROBINSON
One-half mile from Lancaster on Danville pike.

L. F. HUBBLE,
ATTORNEY AT LAW
AND REAL ESTATE AGT.
LANCASTER, KY.
Thirty-Thousand Acres Valuable Hardwood Timber and Mineral Lands for Sale in South-Eastern Kentucky.
Special Bargains in Blue Grass Farms.

KIDNEY DISEASES
are the most fatal of all diseases.
FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE is a Guaranteed Remedy or money refunded. Contains remedies recognized by eminent physicians as the best for Kidney and Bladder troubles.
PRICE 50c. and $1.00.

WANTED!

Every Man, Woman, Boy and Girl in the County
For Customers.

We Know How to Keep Them.

Try Us, and See if We Don't!

FRISBIE'S DRUG STORE.

CENTRAL RECORD.

THURSDAY, MAY 31, 1900

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Miss Allie Arnold will visit Louisville this week.

Will Dunn, of Texas, has been visiting Lancaster relatives.

Mr. Alex Doty and family are visiting friends in Louisville.

Miss Inona Douglass, of Versailles, is visiting friends in this city.

Miss Lizzie Brown is in Louisville attending the Confederate reunion.

Mrs. George McRoberts, of Stanford, spent several days at home this week.

Miss Georgia Ray, of Fort Smith, Arkansas, is visiting her uncle at Buckeye.

Mr. W. H. Face, of Norfolk, is expected this week to visit his friend, Mr. Fred P. Frisbie.

Miss Mary Sandifer, a charming young lady of Covington, is the guest of Mrs. John M. Logan.

Misses Minnie Dunn, of Paint Lick, and Bessie Turley, of Richmond, are guests of Miss Amy Davidson.

Mrs. Lou Bader and brother, Charlie, of Cincinnati, returned home Monday, after a visit to their cousin, Miss Nellie Dillon.

Miss Nannie Gaines has returned from Bristol, Tenn., where she attended school. She was accompanied by her friend, Miss Turley, of Frankfort, Mo.

Bro. Albright, of the Mt. Vernon choir, was in town last week playing in the band from his city. He is an able young man and is making the Signal one of the best papers that come to our desk.

Col. Charlton Brooke, of Knoxville, spent a few days with Lancaster friends, leaving for Lexington Monday morning. Col. Brooke is one of Knoxville's most prominent citizens, and a mighty clever gentleman. A party of friends met him at the depot with a brass band and carriages.

Lexington Leader:—Miss Christine Bradley is the guest of Gen. and Mrs. Wilbur R. Smith, of South Limestone.

Mrs. William McFarland, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Wood Dunlap, left Saturday evening for a visit to Detroit, Mich., thence to her home in New York. Mr. Louis Landram, editor of the Lancaster Record, spent Saturday with his sisters, Mrs. Dunlap and Mrs. McFarland.

Passing through Stanford, on Saturday's train, we met Bro. Walton, who by the way meets all trains passing his way day and night, and he took occasion to compliment the Record and ask why we did not praise our paper more, in other words, blow our own horn. We informed him that we were painfully aware of our poor efforts at editing a paper, that people only took it through sympathy for our wife, etc., etc. "Well," said he, "You are mistaken. You have a good paper and ought to proclaim the fact from every house top. You know in the 'seventh chapter of Goliath, the bible says 'till your own tooter or the said tooter will not be tooted.' You ought to borrow a bible and post up."

Stanford Journal:—Col. Louis Landram of the Lancaster Record, was on Saturday's train, bound for Lexington. He is one of the most appreciative men of the merits of others and the most deprecative of his own that we ever knew and will go further to return an imaginary or other favor than anybody.

Next Wednesday morning, at nine o'clock, Mr. Fred P. Frisbie and Miss Alice Walker Hudson will be married at the residence of the brides parents, on Danville street. The ceremony will be performed by Dr. J. L. McKee, and they will leave immediately for a bridal tour through the south, spending two weeks at Ashland, N. C.

Stanford Journal:—Mr. Lewis L. Doty, of this place, and Miss Annie Thoma, of Bourbon, were married at her home near Millersburg, Thursday night, Rev. Echols, of that place, performing the ceremony. The bride is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of J. H. Thoma, an extensive farmer and horse raiser, while the groom is well known here to comment on. Suffice it to say, however, this is one of the best catches in this section and the woman who caught him is to be congratulated. He is the son of Capt. J. A. Doty, of Garrard, and is a chip off the old block.

A reception was tendered them at Capt. Doty's Friday night. The Record join many Garrard county friends in extending congratulations.

Miss Mattie Doty is in visiting relatives in Knoxville.

John M. Farra is among the visitors in Louisville this week.

Mrs. Bettie Denny is at Point Burdette, visiting Mrs. Boland.

Miss Pearl Ashley left Wednesday for Louisville, to visit relatives.

Paul Miller was at home from school at Lexington. He returned Monday.

Miss Helen Frisbie, of Cleveland, Ohio, is visiting Mr. Fred P. Frisbie.

Brown Anderson, of Nicholasville, played with the Richmond band last week.

Mrs. Carrie Taylor, of Augusta, is expected this week to visit Miss Alice Hudson.

Miss Allie Anderson left Tuesday to visit her sister, Mrs. Frank Bacon, in Louisville.

Mrs. R. E. McRoberts and children leave this week for Hopkinsville, to visit relatives.

Miss Tevis Carpenter, of Stanford, was entertained by Miss Eugenia Bush during the G. A. R.

During his stay in Lancaster, Gen. Gordon was royally entertained by Mr. John M. Higginbotham.

Mrs. George Patterson left Tuesday for Chicago to attend the wedding of her sister, Miss Grace Barton.

Mrs. Elbert Smith, baby Margaret, and Miss Pauline Arnold, of Jellico, Tennessee, have been visiting Mrs. George Farris.

Mrs. Dr. Black, of Knoxville, Tenn., Mrs. Fish and daughter, Miss Alice, Mr. Dexter Ballou and wife, of Stanford, were guests of Miss Rella Arnold during the G. A. R. meeting.

Messrs. Joe Waters and Al Warren come over from Stanford to see the G. A. R., and had more fun than a box full of monkeys. They assisted in the singing, drank red lemonade and ate more popcorn than the average small boy.

Stanford Journal:—Col. Louis Landram of the Lancaster Record, was on Saturday's train, bound for Lexington. He is one of the most appreciative men of the merits of others and the most deprecative of his own that we ever knew and will go further to return an imaginary or other favor than anybody.

Next Wednesday morning, at nine o'clock, Mr. Fred P. Frisbie and Miss Alice Walker Hudson will be married at the residence of the brides parents, on Danville street. The ceremony will be performed by Dr. J. L. McKee, and they will leave immediately for a bridal tour through the south, spending two weeks at Ashland, N. C.

Stanford Journal:—Mr. Lewis L. Doty, of this place, and Miss Annie Thoma, of Bourbon, were married at her home near Millersburg, Thursday night, Rev. Echols, of that place, performing the ceremony. The bride is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of J. H. Thoma, an extensive farmer and horse raiser, while the groom is well known here to comment on. Suffice it to say, however, this is one of the best catches in this section and the woman who caught him is to be congratulated. He is the son of Capt. J. A. Doty, of Garrard, and is a chip off the old block.

A reception was tendered them at Capt. Doty's Friday night. The Record join many Garrard county friends in extending congratulations.

Mr. Roberts, of Lexington, visiting W. A. Berkele.

Mr. Ed Arnold and wife are in Louisville visiting relatives.

Miss Nellie Dillon accompanied Miss Nona Douglass to Versailles.

Herbert Hardin, of Covington, is visiting his uncle, Mr. Hugh Smith.

Mrs. Mattie Durcan is in Louisville attending the Confederate Reunion.

Mr. John M. Frazee, of Maysville, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. H. C. Jennings.

Ben Dinah Herndon is in Middleborough visiting his brother, Horace Herndon.

W. K. Shugars and wife, of McKinnery, have been visiting his sister, Miss Lillie Shugars.

Henry Boyle and wife, of Cincinnati, are visiting his parents, "Squire Boyle and wife."

Mr. Kennedy, of Lexington, spent Saturday and Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Banks Hudson.

Graham Price and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Price, of Danville, have been visiting Mrs. Martha Frisbie.

Mr. George Riche and sister, Miss Ada, of Tennessee, are visiting their grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Dalton.

A delightful impromptu dance was given at the Mason Hotel Friday evening in honor of the visitors. About twenty-five couples participated.

Judge R. G. Williams, of Mt. Vernon, has our thanks for an invitation to attend the commencement exercises of Mt. Vernon Collegiate Institute, which are in progress this week.

The editor accepted a very kind invitation to spend a few days in Louisville this week, but as is usually the case, met with disappointment. We are not certain of anything in this world but death, and even this comes to an editor in a lingering form.

It sounds peculiar to hear a railroad man invite a passenger into his train, show him a seat, and make him feel like he was on a visit to the residence of a friend. Well, such is the case on Capt. Ben McGraw's "Blue Grass Special" on the Queen & Crescent Route. We had the pleasure of a ride on this superb rolling palace Saturday night, and have never enjoyed travel more than that trip. Capt. McGraw is an educated gentleman, and looks in person after every detail of the running of his train. He allows no disorder, makes the porter clean up after every tobacco hog is through with his mess, and sees that the brakemen assist not only ladies but gentlemen also with their luggage. There are few conductors more deservedly popular than is Capt. McGraw.

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

I remember as though it were but yesterday "The First Days of the Confederacy," and that when I throw myself into the breach to save the country I thought—ergo—that we

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

I remember as though it were but yesterday "The First Days of the Confederacy," and that when I throw myself into the breach to save the country I thought—ergo—that we

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

I remember as though it were but yesterday "The First Days of the Confederacy," and that when I throw myself into the breach to save the country I thought—ergo—that we

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

I remember as though it were but yesterday "The First Days of the Confederacy," and that when I throw myself into the breach to save the country I thought—ergo—that we

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

I remember as though it were but yesterday "The First Days of the Confederacy," and that when I throw myself into the breach to save the country I thought—ergo—that we

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

I remember as though it were but yesterday "The First Days of the Confederacy," and that when I throw myself into the breach to save the country I thought—ergo—that we

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

I remember as though it were but yesterday "The First Days of the Confederacy," and that when I throw myself into the breach to save the country I thought—ergo—that we

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

I remember as though it were but yesterday "The First Days of the Confederacy," and that when I throw myself into the breach to save the country I thought—ergo—that we

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

I remember as though it were but yesterday "The First Days of the Confederacy," and that when I throw myself into the breach to save the country I thought—ergo—that we

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

I remember as though it were but yesterday "The First Days of the Confederacy," and that when I throw myself into the breach to save the country I thought—ergo—that we

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

I remember as though it were but yesterday "The First Days of the Confederacy," and that when I throw myself into the breach to save the country I thought—ergo—that we

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

I remember as though it were but yesterday "The First Days of the Confederacy," and that when I throw myself into the breach to save the country I thought—ergo—that we

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

I remember as though it were but yesterday "The First Days of the Confederacy," and that when I throw myself into the breach to save the country I thought—ergo—that we

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

I remember as though it were but yesterday "The First Days of the Confederacy," and that when I throw myself into the breach to save the country I thought—ergo—that we

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

I remember as though it were but yesterday "The First Days of the Confederacy," and that when I throw myself into the breach to save the country I thought—ergo—that we

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

I remember as though it were but yesterday "The First Days of the Confederacy," and that when I throw myself into the breach to save the country I thought—ergo—that we

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

I remember as though it were but yesterday "The First Days of the Confederacy," and that when I throw myself into the breach to save the country I thought—ergo—that we

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

A Thousand Tongues.

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, of 1125 Howard St., Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Cure—"It soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the Universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the Throat, Chest or Lungs. Price 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottles free at McRoberts' Drug Store: every bottle guaranteed. Im

CAPT. HERNDON'S REMARKS.

Introducing Gen. Gordon in this City Last Thursday Night.

Such had been the course of events that when the great war cloud lowered in 1861, it was seen at once that the only road to permanent sunshine was through the gloom and smoke of fratricidal strife, and that there was very grave doubt whether that sunshine would be upon a united or disunited country. Such had been the logic of events—necessarily sweeping us on to bitter sectional antagonism—that neither side could recede—the one side could no more recede than the other—the only conclusion from the premises was war—the man-hood up on the one side and the other demanded that the question should be settled by the arbitrament of shot and

PETERSBURG, Ill., Oct. 13th, 1899. Pepsin Syrup Co., Monticello, Ill. Gentlemen:—Our baby Esther has never tasted a drop of medicine other than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for more than a year. It entirely cured her of constipation. She is a lovely child and since I gave her your medicine she has been perfectly healthy, altho' she had not been well and strong until we began using it. We know of others who are using it with equally good results. Wishing you success, Gratefully yours, Mrs. C. A. THUCKMULLER. Sold at McRoberts' Drug Store.

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

I remember as though it were but yesterday "The First Days of the Confederacy," and that when I throw myself into the breach to save the country I thought—ergo—that we

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

I remember as though it were but yesterday "The First Days of the Confederacy," and that when I throw myself into the breach to save the country I thought—ergo—that we

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

I remember as though it were but yesterday "The First Days of the Confederacy," and that when I throw myself into the breach to save the country I thought—ergo—that we

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

I remember as though it were but yesterday "The First Days of the Confederacy," and that when I throw myself into the breach to save the country I thought—ergo—that we

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

I remember as though it were but yesterday "The First Days of the Confederacy," and that when I throw myself into the breach to save the country I thought—ergo—that we

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the old world.

I remember as though it were but yesterday "The First Days of the Confederacy," and that when I throw myself into the breach to save the country I thought—ergo—that we

shell, and each of us honestly fought for the cause which we loved best. We reached through that logic—brought about by that arbitrament—what we now consider as the proper but which would then have been considered an impossible result. That result—those conditions—with the bayonet at each other's throat—brother arrayed against brother, and father against son, the mother, the wife, the daughter, the sister distracted, heart broken because of those conditions then—now all of us standing together, shoulder to shoulder, with one common aim, one common destiny, rolling the wheels of progress all round the world, would seem to us a matter of supreme astonishment—but when we consider the universality of these conditions and sentiments, coupled with our united strength, it is certainly enough to surprise, if not to perplex and madden, the crowned heads and effete monarchies of the

